Professional Profile

An extremely active and hardworking citizen who enjoys communicating with others and taking part in social activities. Motivated from talking to teachers and I highly admire those who have knowledge in Philosophy. Interested in brainy games and currently with 145 IQ. I always live with my planned days so that any minute of my life is wasted.

Objects

I look forward to gaining the most recent knowledge in programming by experiencing real IT spehers. I want to develop my current knowledge in HTML5, CSS and CSAS with the help of strong Front-End Developers.

Education

1. Westminster International University in Tashkent – 2020-(expected graduation in 2024);
 2. Academic Lyceum under Namangan State University in Namangan – 2018-2020;
 3. Public school №18 in Namangan – 2009-2018.

Work experience

January 2018

English Trainer for kids at Effortless Education (currently named Start21). I had one-year experience of teaching kids at this learning center.

September 2019

Sales assistant in one of the biggest markets called MegaPolis in the heart of Namangan. Except communication skills, I established strengthened fast thinking skills, because our market was full of customers all the time and we had to serve several individuals at the same time.

January 2020

Assistant of Front-End developer at IT company Super Dispatch from January 2021 and I am currently working here.

Skills

I am confident of HTML5 and CSS skills and I have contributed to development of several projects. One of them is a software of Super Dispatch company that provides carriers and shippers with the best available directions.

I have completed reading a book called Speed Reading by Tony Buzan and practiced my fast reading skills. Now, I can read 862 words in a minute with a strong comprehension.

I have very good leadership and presentation skills. From time to time, I organize meetings with school pupils in order to improve their, and respectively, my motivation towards a greater future. When I talk to them about future plans, I will add so many goals for myself.
